Updates:

Concerning the project underway; Don reported that the 25 columns which have been installed have raised up the foyer floor and improved the slight pitch that was present. The left side pews also are closer to and almost flush to the walls, The center pews have come apart slightly, and the committee has agreed to address this in a future interior project.

With the presence of water in the crawl space, the possibility of a curtain drain will be considered after Sherry speaks with Taylor Excavation about what has been done so far. The moisture mitigation project will begin in February.
